

Advice from Sarah Dunphy, ULSU President 2016-2017

'I would highly recommend anyone thinking of running for election to do so. It is such a rewarding year. The job allows you to see every aspect of UL. You are the primary representative for UL students both locally and nationally. It is your chance to influence change. It is your chance to make a difference for the students of UL, not only the current ones but those that will attend this great University in the future. You will meet an array of people of all ages, nationalities, opinions and beliefs. You will be exposed to a whole new world behind the scenes of UL and you will see how the University functions. You will be acutely aware of what is making the students happy and not-so-happy through Student Exec and Council. You work in a supportive work environment with a team of people that have students interests at heart. I cannot recommend highly enough running for election. I would not change one bit of my year as SU President. A enjoyed a thoroughly educational, fun and rewarding year!'
